Home for the Holidays at Carolwood

Immersive Installation Celebrating Walt's Family and Love of Trains

San Francisco, NOVEMBER 3, 2016—The Walt Disney Family Museum is excited to introduce its newest holiday tradition with the opening of Home for the Holidays at Carolwood, an immersive seasonal installation celebrating Walt's family and love of trains, on view from November 17, 2016 to January 9, 2017.

The installation will include an elaborate three-dimensional model of the Disney Family home on Carolwood Drive in Holmby Hills, Los Angeles—including Walt's personal steam locomotive, the Lilly Belle, chugging along his Carolwood Pacific Fair Weather Route.

The intricate scale model will be on view for the entire duration of the installation, however it will be decorated with seasonal lights ceremonially ignited on Walt's birthday, December 5, and beginning December 7, the museum will invite one lucky family to be the first to flip the switch each morning following.

Mark Hurt, lead engineer of the model that will be on display at Home for the Holidays at Carolwood, has put his heart and soul into every detail during construction. He was drawn to Walt Disney World since he was ten-years-old and hasn't looked back since.

"Looking back, what truly inspired me the most about Walt Disney was his philosophy of storytelling through art and innovation," said Hurt. "It is an honor to be a part of this grand installation emulating not only Walt's cherished home but also Walt's spirit of whimsy, adventure, and creativity. We couldn't be more excited to present a piece of Walt's life to Disney fans in the San Francisco Bay Area."

To further experience the holiday season like the Disney family, images of Christmas cards from Walt and Lillian Disney, The Walt Disney Company, and Disney artists, along with personal snapshots depicting Walt and his family will fill the gallery with Yuletide cheer. Beloved Disney characters, seen in animation art and ephemera, add to the festive holiday experience.

Complementing this installation are December screenings of Christmas with Walt Disney, a film exclusively made for and shown only at The Walt Disney Family Museum during the holidays.
